August 11, 2006 (Plainfield, NJ) - Ms. Noreen E. Haveron, President/Executive Director of Job Haines Home, an assisted living and nursing home facility in Bloomfield, New Jersey, has recently been appointed a member of the Muhlenberg Foundation Board of Trustees. As Job Haine's chief administrator, Ms. Haveron oversees daily operations for one of the nation's first facilities designed especially for senior living.

"Health care is about helping people when they need it most," says Haveron. "I am new to Muhlenberg, but am very impressed with the people and quality of the institution. "I hope that my expertise and knowledge in the areas of assisted living, long-term care and the health industry will be beneficial to Muhlenberg."

Ms. Haveron's background highlights 20 years of health care experience. She was Executive Director of Liberty Manor Assisted Living as well as Care One facilities in Holmdel and Paramus. Additionally, Ms. Haveron held management positions at MultiCare Companies, Inc., Maple Glen Nursing & Rehabilitation Center, Arbor Glen Care & Rehabilitation Center, and Hamilton Park Health Care Center. A licensed nursing home administrator, she earned a Masters of Public Administration from Kean College and a Bachelor of Social Work from Seton Hall University.

"We are indeed fortunate that the Muhlenberg Foundation Board is comprised of philanthropic, selfless and talented individuals who are committed to raising the resources necessary to maintain Muhlenberg as an outstanding community hospital," says John Nolan, Senior Vice President of Foundations, Solaris Health System. "The appointment of Noreen Haveron to our board not only continues the tradition of recruiting superior leadership, it strengthens our ability to raise funds for Muhlenberg. Noreen is a great addition to our board and the Muhlenberg family. I look forward to working with her on many successful fundraising initiatives."
